- a short "literature review" of the specific topic in which you frame the research question
- the rationale: the justification of your study including the importance and originality of the research question, considering the literature review
- a list of references (strongly recommended the use of Mendeley and APA 7th Edition to report references)

Note: each member should contribute with about 3-4 references. Indicate in an appendix which references were found by each member in the group.

The objective of this assignment is to help you organize your work and write the final meta-research paper. This assignment will be graded.
